Sprinters 2025

Sprinters is a series of soft skill and personality development sessions specially designed and curated for First Year students. Guiding students to improve their personality and soft skills has always been the core motive of Sprinters.

Sprinters is a lecture series along with personality development activities for first year students to enhance soft skills. We introduce topics like Presentation skills, Interview skills, Resume building, etc. We also conduct activities through which students learn to develop confidence, presentation skills, communication skills and networking.

From 2019-20 we have also started introducing technical workshops for first year students. Workshops cover topics like graphics designing using Corel draw, Python, web designing, etc. We also conduct competition based on the workshops. We conduct these workshops to boost engagement and enthusiasm of the students in these workshops.

The main motive for introducing technical sessions along with soft skill sessions is to make students equally strong with technical knowledge and give them a sneak-peek with the latest technology trends in engineering.
